DETAILED ACTION

Claim 5 is presented for examination. Claims 1-4 have been cancelled by the amendment filed on 7-1-2005. This office action is in response to the amendment filed on 7-1-2005.

The objection to the drawing has been withdrawn because of amendment.

Applicants are reminded of the duty to disclose information under 37CFR 1.56.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claim 5 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Saito (6,018,352) in view of Nomizu (6,301,391), and further in view of Tong (US 2003/0088551).

Regarding claim 5, Saito discloses that the claimed feature of a drawing registration system comprising: a drawing creation means [i.e. "graphic input unit"; 11] for creating a parent drawing for a specified part (See step 201 in Fig 2); a drawing creation system database for correlating [i.e. "symmetry judging/processing unit"; 20-22]

and storing [i.e. "storage device"; 30] parent drawing, which was created by drawing creation means [11], and [ID information] for identifying part; an input means [i.e. "arrangement processing instructing unit"; 51] for inputting drawing related information [i.e. "graphic processing instruction"] that is related to parent drawing (See step 202 in Fig 2), which was created by drawing creation means; an input means [i.e. "a symmetry axis input unit"; 12] for inputting symmetrical part information [i.e. "data of symmetry axis"] that indicated part that corresponds to parent drawing and a part that has left right symmetry (See step 203 in Fig 2); a management information database for storing drawing related information and symmetrical part information ["data of symmetry axis"]; a data conversion means for converting data format of parent drawing that is stored by drawing creation system database [20-22]; a data conversion database for storing parent drawing whose data format has been converted by data conversion means [20-22]; a correlation means for correlating parent drawing, drawing related information and symmetrical part information by taking [ID information] of parent drawing that corresponds to part to which a first specified ID code has been added as new ID information, and attaching this ID information to drawing related information that corresponds to part; and by taking ID information of parent drawing that correspond to part to which a second specified ID code has been added as new ID information, and attaching this ID information to symmetrical part information that corresponds to parent drawing; a drawing search database for converting data format of parent drawing, drawing related information and symmetrical part information ["symmetric data"] from decimal to hexadecimal information and storing; [a search means for searching parent drawing of part that corresponds to ID information, drawing related information that is correlated with parent drawing, and symmetrical part information that is correlated with parent drawing from drawing search database, when there is an instruction by way of a specified terminal to search for a drawing that corresponds to the ID information of a specified part; and a printing means for printing the search results of search means.]

Saito does not specifically disclose that utilizing of a specified ID code to represent drawing related information. However, such limitation is shown in the teaching of Nomizu. [i.e. 'adding identification code into image information'] (See col 4 line 25-43, col 10 line 7-22) It would have been obvious to one skilled in the art to incorporate the teaching of Nomizu into the teaching of Saito, in order to represent different image information with improved image data format, thereby achieving highly efficient data coding at low cost, as such improvement is also advantageously desirable in the teaching of Saito for representing different type of graphic data with optimized manner.

Also, the combination of Saito and Nomizu do not explicitly the search means for searching parent drawing of part with ID information. However, such limitation is shown in the teaching of Tong. [i.e. 'method and system for searching a database for the drawing number associated with the part name and Id'] (See Fig 8, Abstract, [18],[20],[32],[34]) It would have been obvious to one skilled in the art to incorporate the teaching of Tong into the teaching of Saito and Nomizu, in order to retrieve the proper part image with accuracy, as such improvement is also advantageously desirable in the teaching of Saito for displaying properly arranged graphics with optimized manner.

Response to Arguments/Amendments

Applicant's arguments with respect to claim 5 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action. Any inquiry concerning this
